

Portland Weekly Sun, Jay County, IN; April 18, 1908

After a short illness, the 18th-month-old son of Arthur and Blanche Bone, living west of Antivill, was called by the messenger of death late Tuesday night. Earl Jay Bone was born November 2, 1907, and was always fair health until a few days before his death, which was due to hemorrhage of the stomach. Besides his father and mother, the little one is survived by two sisters and two brothers, Gladys, Grace, Bert and Levi.

The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at the home, being conducted by Rev. Fred Stovenour of this city. Burial followed in the Gravel Hill Cemetery.

Contributed by Jim Cox