

Hammond Times, Hammond, Indiana; September 18, 1933

DIES AFTER VISIT TO MOTHER'S GRAVE

PORTLAND, Ind. Sept. 18 - Walter Hardy, 28, had a rendezvous with death at his mother's grave in Green Park Cemetery here.

Overcome by grief apparently while mourning at the grave, Hardy suffered a fatal heart stroke as he returned to his car. His lifeless body was found in the machine later.

Hardy was a teacher in the Polingtown high school. His mother died 18 months ago.

Contributed by Karin King