

Kermit McCurdy dies

Kermit L. McCurdy, 77, 621 W. Third St., Portland, a retired employee of Sheller-Globe Corp, died Thursday night at Ball Memorial Hospital in Muncie after a short illness.

He was born in Portland on Nov. 1, 1904, the son of Charles Russell and Sarah E. (Brosher) McCurdy. He was married on April 23, 1928, to Gladys V. Landers, who survives.

He was a veteran of the U.S. Navy.

Surviving besides his wife, are one daughter, Mrs. Tom (Lois) Borders, Portland, one grandson, Tom Borders Jr., Portland; two sisters, Mrs. Cecil H. (Dorothy) Imel, and Mrs. James (Jane) Landers, Portland.

Services are set for Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the Baird-Freeman Funeral Home. Burial will be in the Green Park Cemetery.

Callers will be received at the funeral home after noon on Sunday.

Contributed by genealogy_guy_2012 - no source listed