

The funeral services for Mrs. C. H. Rines were held at the West Walnut Street Christian Church at 10 o'clock today and that edifice was crowded to its utmost capacity by sympathizing friends and relatives of the deceased.

Rev. S. A. Armstrong, pastor of the church, preached the funeral sermon and made a very touching talk.

The interment was at Green Park Cemetery.

Portland Daily Commercial; November 15, 1894

Nora E. Rines, daughter of Henry and Josephine Caster, was born in Jay County, Indiana, June 20, 1874; departed this life on West Walnut Street, November 13, 1894, aged 20 years, 4 months and 23 days.

She was united in marriage with Curtis H. Rines, June 2, 1893 and from that time was a most devoted wife and companion, doing all in her power to make husband and friends happy.

She leaves a father, mother, brother, three sisters, husband and infant daughter, with a host of relatives and friends to mourn her early death.

Portland Daily Commercial, Jay County, IN; November 27, 1894

Contributed by Jim Cox