Hoosier Highlights:

Portland, Ind., July 30.—James Dale, aged 96, will be buried in a grave dug ten years ago at his direction. He died Monday. The grave is located in the Hillside cemetery near Pennville, this (Jay) county. Mr. Dale, who was said to be the second oldest Mason in Indiana, was taken ill on his 96th birthday, July 1. He was a baker.

The funeral services were held in Pennville Methodist church today in charge of the Masonic lodge.

Note: Burial 31 Jul 1924, per Washington Democrat Newspaper

Contributed by Graham