

GLASSFORD

Portland, Oct. 10. – Clarence Glassford, 58, night foreman at the Portland Drop Forge, died suddenly while at work at 12:20 o'clock this morning. Mr. Glassford's son-in-law, Clyde Gavin, was killed in an automobile accident last Saturday near Albany, this making the second death in the family in a week's time. He is survived by the wife, five daughters, son Leon, two brothers, one sister, one step-son and one step-daughter.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Wesleyan Methodist church in charge of Rev. Lee Tyndall. Burial in the Liberator cemetery
